SPIRITUAL MANIFESTATIONS.

Wonders will never cease. Many there are who firmly believe that our departed friends return from the unseen world and in many ways manifest themselves to earth's inhabitants.

Now and then the moral sense of the strict churchman has been outraged by the sudden and unexpected avowal of the spiritualistic faith on the part of some of their most prominent members.

Lately a leading churchman and for many years the superintendent of the public schools in New York city, published a book giving his observations and experiences in the matter of securing communications from the departed dead.

This book it seems is creating a great excitement and is calling the attention of the thinking public anew to this but little understood subject. From the beginning of time until the present day it has been claimed by thinking men that the spirits of the dead can be called out of the unseen realm and their thoughts and experiences as coming to them in the other life be made known to their friends still remaining on this side the hereafter.

We do not write these brief sentences with a view to settling our selves up as teachers of moral ethics or as guides to spiritual faith, but with a wish to please our readers.

THE HERALD has so far improved (?) in its moral tone since its first few months of reckless wanderings, that no doubt our religiously (?) inclined contemporaries will now be delighted to note the slightest allusion to a moral question.

SECTIONALISM.

The last Miner received, contains two long and several short items abusing and reviling this town and valley, because it is at this time undergoing an era of progress and prosperity. It says we owe our existence from crumbs given us by them, and that we do not appreciate the said crumbs; that we are "pumpkin eaters," and do our work in "whisky-shops," "cattle shade trees," "exterminator cottonwoods," and uses this language toward several men of Phoenix who once did business there.

"Several old scabs" who once served as ornaments, on the corners of our streets and in front of our saloons for the use of life and big dogs, just as lamp-posts are used."

When a newspaper gets so independent as to pay no respect to the feelings of its patrons, it is time they should be "taken down a peg" by touching them on their pocket.

The last Miner is an insult to every person who has the advancement and welfare of this section at heart. We learn that some of our prominent men have taken the matter in hand and will commence by seeing that every subscriber in Salt River Valley discontinues his paper, and if that sheet continues its abuse we will not be compelled to read it.

Owing to the demand for 4 per cent. Refunding certificates being greater than the supply, the Treasury Department is compelled to regulate the issue to depositors. The sales in Washington were getting to be out of all proportion to the amount of certificates which depositors elsewhere could receive, and today no person was allowed to buy more than $100 in certificates.

We learn that the Prescott people feel kindly toward Phoenix, as they certainly should, and that the section at feeling supposed to exist between the two places is shared in by but a few people—namely the editor of the Miner.

THE reason, in a nutshell, why the Enterprise abuses the Tiptop Mining company is: They published the last assessment notice and delinquent sale without authority, and on their presenting their bill it was refused a discharge of blackmail.

It is asserted by the leaders of the Trades Union in Chicago, that a strike, to be general throughout the country will begin July 30th. They demand the adoption of the eight hour system.
